DEMOCRATIC ENDORSEMENT OF GARFIELD.

"I will tell you whom I think the Republicans should nominate, and whom I consider THEIR STRONG-EST MAN; he is a TRUE MAN, A MAN OF PRINCIPLE, AN HON-EST MAN, AND WOULD MAKE A GOOD PRESIDENT FOR US
ALL. Personally I consider him the BEST MAN you could nominate. I refer to General JAMES A. GAR-FIELD, of Ohio."—[Thomas A. Hendricks, 1876.

"I have been his devoted friend for many years, and I am resolved that I never will believe that he does not deserve the affection that I have bestowed upon him. If he would carry the principles which regulate his private life into his public conduct, HE WOULD MAKE THE BEST CHIEF MAGISTRATE THAT WE HAVE EVER HAD."—[Jere Black.

In the midst of the organized carnival of corruption which has been going on now for so many weary months and years at Washington, it is really satisfactory to catch glimpses now and then of HONESTY FOR HONESTY'S SAKE, and without consideration of party. General GARFIELD, of Ohio, is a Republican of Republicans, but it is his simple duty, which we gladly pay to him, to admit that HE HAS DONE MORE THAN ANY OTHER SINGLE MEMBER OF
HIS PARTY, during the late session of Congress, to show that it is not impossible for a man to act with a Congressional majority, and yet to KEEP HIS SELF-RESPECT AND THE RESPECT OF HONEST MEN.—

a candidate.

ARTESIAN WELL BORING.

T. Cahoon was interviewed last evening in regard to the artesian well business, in which he is a practical expert. He says that the best wells on the coast are only one or two hundred feet deep, and that they go through clay streaks, but not rock. He says that the famous wells at Santa Clara, Cal., are none of them very deep, and only cost a few hundred dollars each.
Where there is no rock, Mr. Cahoon will take a contract for boring at the rate of one dollar and a half a foot for the first hundred, and two dollars between that and four hundred feet. If a well capable of irrigating 20 acres could be had for four or five hundred dollars, it would be a paying investment. There is plenty of land within half an hour's ride of Reno which with free water, would be worth $20 an acre. It would be an excellent thing for Reno if it could be demonstrated that it could be done. Such a scheme as this might be gotten up.
A number of citizens might subscribe an amount sufficient to put down a well on the land of some farmer, beyond the reach of any of the ditches.
If water is struck, the farmer to pay for the well, which he could afford to do. If not, the subscribers to stand the loss. Let someone try and see what they can do. The GAZETTE will contribute its share.

Garfield wants Nation spelled with a big N.

SHARON SPEAKS.

On Wednesday evening Senator Sharon appeared on the balcony of the International hotel at Virginia, and spoke at some length to a large audience who seemed very friendly to him. We do not give the entire speech, but the points are all expressed below:

"Gentlemen and Fellow-Citizens; I thank you, in the name of the great Republican party, for the compliment you have paid me to-night. I feel pleased and gratified at seeing this grand outpouring of Republicans, gentlemen and patriots, and accept it, not so much as an ovation to myself, as to the great cause in which we are all engaged. The Republican party holds in the hollow of its hand all the great principles that are dear to the American people, therefore, all who have a heart the good of their country should stand by that party. I do not come amongst you to fight my own battle
so much as to fight that of the people —to ask you to give your support to the Government under which you are now so happy and prosperous.

When I was here with you before your mines were yielding their millions, and you were all happy. There seems now to be a change not attributable to the Democratic party, but some few have accumulated an abundant of money to the loss of the many. Now no man is sincere in heart who does not look to the welfare of the masses. When the masses, which means the people, prosper, we all prosper and are content, and there is happiness everywhere in the land.
I am in heart with Nevada and Nevadans, and have ever been with them, as many of you here present know and can testify. When I had the means to do so I stood in with you and stood to the front. I do not now come to you with a gorged purse asking you to make me United States Senator. If you find another man whom you prefer to me, in God's name take him.
You have not yet forgotten that when disaster threatened in San Francisco, and when all the industries of this State and the Pacific Coast were endangered, my money went to sustain and not to buy up. I have always been willing to do my part, and am confident that you who are now before me and hear me will do me the justice to say that I have not failed you in your greatest needs; that I have not withheld my means in dark days, in the times of your trial. Something has been said about my being a non-resident; that I am not constantly here in your midst. If I am not here personally I spend my money here in building railroads to open up new sections of your State—not in building palaces in foreign lands or in voyages around the world. I am planting hundreds of homes in your State where those who are sneering at me as a non-resident are planting one.

There appears to be some doubt as to whether my opponent is to be classed as a Republican or a Democrat;
there is no doubt about my position;
about where I stand—I am a Republican to the heart's core, and don't you forget it.

I have now said much more than I intended when I began, but your kindly feelings have cheered me and have prompted me to speak to you freely and fully the things that it came into my heart to say. Thanking you again, I bid you all good night."

THE STATE FAIR.

The Trustees of the Agricultural Society have labored under more drawbacks in giving a fair this year than any former board. The year has been hard on all classes. The grasshopper has been a burden. Last winter was too severe for stock to do well.
The mines are empty, and no one has had the heart to throw a dollar away if he could keep it. The California circuit has been enlarged by the operations of the new law, which places the State and district fairs in the hands of the State, so we got no trotters from there. After all, we have had a delightful week, and we think our visitors will go home satisfied. The Trustees have worked with hearty good humor to please us all. They have done their very best with the materials
they had, and have succeeded in making some excellent contests. We can imagine that they feel grateful to Chas. M. Fassett for the interesting display of his skill as a bicyclist, to the ladies who rode in the tournament, to the base-ball players, and to Messrs. Winters, Pritchard, Martin, Winston, Nichols, Travers, Breed and others who have brought horses. We have heard fault found that people could not tell what was coming off, and we hear that Sierra valley and northern people did not come because of the uncertainties. We imagine if the thing was to be done over they would do more advertising, and do it a longer time in advance, in order to create more interest. Printers' ink pays a hundred per cent. in such matters as fairs and shows. Big advertisements convince people that there is going to be a real big time, and no mistake, and that it will not do for them to miss it. The stock parade made up in quality what it lacked in quantity. The show in the Pavilion has never been equalled. We take some credit to our-elves, and so may the Journal, for helping to fill up. We hope no one has growled at the weather clerk, for he has turned out nothing but smiles all week.

INDIANA AND OHIO.

The election in Indiana, which takes place on Tuesday, the twelfth instant, will have an important bearing on the general result in November. The canvass is being prosecuted by the Republicans with spirit and energy, and there is hope of their carrying the State. The Democrats are making the most determined efforts to hold it.

The election in Indiana on Tuesday of next week is for Governor, members of Congress and other officers. Ohio's election for Congressmen and State officers comes on the same day. Should both these States give Republican majorities, the Presidential election may be considered sure for Garfield. The Democrats have no chance of victory without New York, and Republican victory this month in Indiana and Ohio would give New York to Garfield. During the last 25 years, with but one exception, the whole country has gone in November as Indiana has gone in October.
The following table gives the results of the last six Presidential elections, and the State elections preceding them, in Indiana:

1856, Oct., Dem. majority.....	5,872
1860, Nov., Dem. majority.....	24,296
1868, Oct., Rep. majority.....	9,757
1872, Nov., Rep. majority.....	11,229
1880, Oct., Rep. majority.....	20,883
1884, Nov., Rep. majority.....	20,189
1888, Oct., Rep. majority.....	961
1892, Nov., Rep. majority.....	9,372
1872, Oct., Dem. majority.....	1,148
1876, Nov., Rep. majority.....	22,515
1880, Oct., Dem. majority.....	5,139
1876, Nov., Dem. majority.....	5,535

The latest election held in Indiana is that of 1878. "Hard times" had reduced the Republican vote, and the Greenbackers that year polled a vote of 39,415. The Democratic plurality was then 14,113. Elections held in other western States since 1878 have shown a great change in favor of the Republicans, and it is not unreasonable to expect that the approaching election in Indiana will demonstrate a like change in that State. Business has improved; wages are better; more hands are employed; the crops have been good, and prices are high.
Prosperous people are not apt to want a change. When things go wrong, the "change" argument is likely to have some effect. This year people are satisfied to let well enough alone.

The chances of Republican success in Indiana are helped by the fact that the Democratic nominees on the State ticket are personally unpopular with the Greenbackers. Lander, the Democratic candidate for Governor, beside being a notorious Copperhead, has broken his pledge to the Greenback party this year. Porter, the Republican candidate for Governor, has at least the respect of the Greenbackers.

On the day of the Indiana election Ohio elects members of Congress and State officers. The Democrats expect defeat in Ohio. They confess defeat in advance by the conduct of their campaign. They have concentrated all their energies to hold Indiana, and are doing feeble work in Ohio. In Ohio the Republicans gained 62,141 in 1879, over the vote of 1868. Counting on a proportionate Republican gain in Indiana, the Republicans may fairly expect to have a plurality of about 3,000 in that State next week.

THE "NEVADA MONTHLY."

The Nevada Monthly for September shows improvement. J. W. Maddrell, of the Reno Journal, contributes an interesting article on "Planetary Conjunction," in which he draws a dreadful picture of the possibilities that may come to pass in June of next year, when the planets are all in line and trying to pull the axis out of the earth through the equator. There are many good things in this number.
The following is the table of contents:
Mining Review; The Sierra Mine, Devil's Gate District, Nevada; Then
and Now by J. Russell Fisher; Population of the World; A May-day Picnic, by J. Mansford Kerr; Georgetown, Colorado; Important to Miners; A Man with a history; Almost a Crime,
by J. Russell Fisher; Tin Cup, Colorado; Highest and lowest Price of Stocks; A Legend of the Sierra, by Dan DeQuille; Elevations in New Mexico; Assessment table; Fraudulent Mining Sales; Nevada—Nye County Items; Planetary Conjunction;
Incorporation; for August; Editorial
—The Nevada Monthly; Political;
Nevada Republican Platform; Republican Ticket; Hon. Thomas Wren, of Eureka, Nevada; Alta and Benton
Mines; Stock Chapter, No. 3; Mining Geology as a Science; Bullion Shipment for August; Locations, Re-locations, and Affidavits of Labor for August; Dividends for August; New Mexico; Distribution of Money; Mining Statistics for August; A Permanent Industry; Law for Miners.

THE CONDITION OF THE CANVASS.

We would like just a word with the speakers who are starting out all over the State to speak upon political subjects. The nearer the line of fair judicial argument is maintained the better it will be for the Republican party. The more we can get men to think the better for us and for them.
The only Democratic arguments are denunciations and misrepresentation in order to make them effective they must get men mad. This is not the way to make Republican votes. The men who weigh the evidence on both sides and who are above the fogs of personal prejudice or personal gain, cannot fail to be convinced that Garfield's election is a necessity, if the matter is properly laid before them.
We commend these thoughts to the speakers, and commend and advise careful argument and moderation.

AN ASININE CRITIC.

The Reno GAZETTE editor in reviewing the Atlantic Monthly says: "It has no serial story, but instead gives one long short story." The Atlantic has always been considered progressive, but to furnish a "long short" story, is indeed a great advance over other magazines. The literary people of the Atlantic should feel flattered over this editorial notice.—Genoa Courier.

If the editor of the Courier read the Atlantic, he could hardly have failed to notice that "one long short story" is exactly the phrase used by that periodical in speaking of the story referred to. The phrase is good enough for the Atlantic and the GAZETTE, although the editor of the Courier flaps
his long short ears over it.

Gov. Kinkead has issued two proclamations; one calling upon the voters
at the coming general election to write upon their ballots "For Chinese Immigration" or "Against Chinese Immigration," the other offering rewards for the discovery of violations of the election laws.

TO VOTERS.

There are only two weeks more in which to register. Only 721 voters have registered in this precinct, up to this date. At the last Presidential election there were 944 registered voters in this precinct. Where are the 223 voters who have not registered? Let every man register and vote.
It is a sacred duty.

Registration closes on the twentieth instant. Don't wait until the last day Register now. See that all your Republican friends are registered. Every vote should be made to tell this year.
Recollect that every voter must have registered this year, to vote in November.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Chief Engineer King, late head of the Bureau of Engineering, remarks, in his recent treatise on the "A-Ships and Navies of the World," that "the American navy is not at present possessed of a single armored sea-going ship, and has strictly but few modern cruising vessels and no armaments of modern rifled guns; in these respects, at least, it differs from the navies, at present, of all considerable European powers."

The Orm-by county Republican primaries will be held on Tuesday next, and the County Convention on the Saturday following. The following is the list at the primaries:

"Did you vote the Republican ticket at the last general election in 1878, or would you have done so had you voted, and will you support the National, State and County ticket
at the coming election?"

The citizens of Nevada will vote unanimously against Chinese immigration next month. The religious fanaticism which wanted to bring Negro slaves to America in former days in order to convert them is about the only argument to be used in favor of bringing Chinese here, and Nevada is the freest country on earth
from religious fanaticism.

The Democratic County Convention at Eureka, Tuesday nominated the following Legislative ticket: State Senator, W. O. Mills; Assemblymen, Judge D. E. Bailey, George W. Merrill, E. R. Garber, and D. J. McLaughlin. The Convention passed a resolution calling for the regulation of fares and freights.

The first number of the weekly
Bulletin, published at Greenville, Plumas county, Cal., makes an excellent appearance. E. A. Weed is the editor and proprietor. Mr. Weed makes a good paper of the Bulletin, and it should have the support of the section in which it is printed. We wish him success.

Loring Pickering, the editor of the
S. F. Morning Call, received a great deal of sympathy when his wife died last winter. And now he has got married again.

The decision of the Supreme Court, that no county elections can be held in California this year, must be a terrible blow to aspirants for local offices in our sister State.

Robert St. Clair has been convicted of murder in the second degree at Winnemucca for the killing of Patrick Tully.

Hon. W. W. Hobart is the Republican nominee for State Senator from Eureka county. The Eureka Republicans have made an excellent choice.

On the 11th St. Julien will trot against his best time, 2:11 1/4, at Prospect Park, New York.

A JEALOUS WOMAN'S WORK.

The Shooting of George Hamilton by His Wife in Sacramento.

The Bee gives the following account of the man who was shot by his wife in Sacramento last Friday: "George Hamilton, the deceased, was an engineer in the employ of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, and ran the express trains between Sacramento and Truckee. He was a sober, industrious man, thoroughly competent,
and enjoyed the esteem of a large circle of acquaintances in Sacramento and at places on the line of the railroad. He was a man about 35 years of age, a native of Massachusetts, of medium height, light complexion, and reserved in his manner.

Mrs. Nancy A. Hamilton, who did the shooting, is a woman of about the ordinary height, about 27 years of age,
light complexion, with blue-gray eyes,
of full figure and a nervous, animated, excitable manner. The couple were married in the east about fifteen years ago, and after living together a number of years they separated, on account of inharmonious in their marital relations. He came to California about nine years ago and left her in the east, and for a long time held no communication with her. During the time they were separated she procured a divorce from him, he making no objections to her so doing. Subsequently, however, the correspondence between them was renewed, Hamilton again courting her (by letter), sent for her to come to California, and on her arrival in Sacramento they were again married.

For a time their second married life
was happy, but the woman's jealous disposition soon cropped out, and by her actions she made his life exceedingly unhappy, accusing him of preferring the society of other women to that of her, and following him about from place to place in search of proof of her surmises. Things continued to go on in this way until about a year ago, when a young girl named Nettie Wicksteck went to live with Mr.
and Mrs. Hamilton. George was very kind to her, and although she was employed to help Mrs. Hamilton do her work, she was treated as one of the family.

It appears from the remainder of the Bee's long account of the affair, that Mrs. Hamilton became so jealous of the girl that she discharged her, and subsequently went to the house where she lived and shot her twice, inflicting dangerous wounds, from which the girl afterwards recovered. Mrs. Hamilton was acquitted, on her trial, the plea being "emotional insanity," resulting from natural causes peculiar to females. Ever since her acquittal, she had made it hot for her husband, following him about at night, and at times drawing a revolver on him to compel him to go home with her. A month ago she snapped a pistol in his face, but failed to discharge it. Hamilton some weeks ago concluded that his wife was too demonstrative in her manifestation of affection, and accordingly refused to live with her any longer, continuing, however, to pay her bills, and treating her kindly when they met.

On Friday last, in response to a note from his wife, Hamilton called on her. In the course of a brief interview they quarrelled several times.
The fatal termination of the affair is thus described: "Hamilton then got up and went out on the porch, his wife following him, putting her arms about his neck and coaxing him to come back. A crowd collected at the gate, and at McLaughlin's suggestion Hamilton again went into the house, and the two sat inside conversing for some time. Again they quarrelled, and again Hamilton arose to go out. She put her arms about his neck and persistently begged him not to leave her,
but to her appeals he turned a deaf ear, and continued moving down the hallway. She then drew a revolver from her pocket, placed the muzzle of the weapon close to his left cheek and fired, the ball entering his face just below and behind the cheek bone, and the powder sear-ing his flesh. Hamilton then fell to the floor, whereupon she again cocked the weapon, stooped over his prostrate body, held the pistol close to his head, and again fired, the second bullet entering his head
about two inches behind the left ear,
passing through the base of the brain, killing him instantly. She then went out on the porch, walked up and down, wringing her hands and crying,
her little girl following her, and continually exclaiming: 'My papa is dead!'"

Mrs. Hamilton was arrested and lodged in jail.

Dr. Pritchard informs us frost has injured the oats crop in Sierra valley very unexpectedly.

JOTTINGS.

Wild ducks are reported along the river.

Savage is assessed $1 and Hale & Norton 75 cents.

The awards of premiums are not yet ready for publication.

The Greenville Fair is likely to draw a number of visitors from Reno.

The Arcade restaurant is under full sail again, with D. McFarland at the helm.

The Farmers' store has closed. The goods have been sold off to dealers in town.

It is by no means certain that Gen. Hazerman will be the next postmaster in Reno.

General Hagerman is getting in good and loads of gold. He will soon be ready for business.

A crazy woman from Storey and a woman from Eureka went west last night. Both were noisy and violent.

Henry Hoffman, of Reno, was married in Sacramento last week, to Miss Ruth Hayden, of that city.

Immense flocks of blackbirds have collected in the suburbs. They are shy, and take wing when approached, as though they feared the sack.

It was reported on good authority last evening, after the political meeting, that Senator Sharon and Thomas Wren were closeted together at the Depot Hotel.

Goach is fitting up his saloon in good style, but with some slight regard to expense. W. Hodge will be manager of the establishment. It will be open in about two weeks.

The story that Senator Sharon, before he went away this morning, gave one of his followers the sack, was a mistake. What he did give was a good sack coat from the White House.

The Democrats are determined to elect the newly Assembled from Churchill. Fair has sent twenty-five men to work at the Bonanza Salt Works and vote. They arrived just in time to acquire the necessary thirty days' residence.

WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM the effects of youthful follies or indiscretion, will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty and sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and some small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milky hue again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genital-urinary organs.

Office Hours—10 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 11 A. M. Consultation Free. Thorough examination and advice $5.

NEVADA STATE FAIR.

RACING AND TROTTING DURING THE WEEK.

THE EXHIBITS IN THE PAVILION.

The week opened with the finest possible weather, which continued uninterruptedly until the close. The attendance at the track was somewhat slim on the opening days, but showed a marked improvement by the middle of the week. There were several very exciting races, and some closely contested ones. The racing feature of the week was the dash for the Nevada cup on Friday, when Clara D made the remarkable time of 4:01.

MONDAY'S RACES.
The first race was a half mile dash for $300, with Collier the favorite. Winston and Collier were the only starters. Collier won in 1:05.

Race No. 1 was declared off, being only one entry.
In No. 3 Jennie B. and Mattie Glen started. At the half mile pole Mattie fell down and Jennie galloped in. The rider of Mattie claimed a foul but the judges gave the race to Jennie B. and Mattie second money. Mattie was bruised but her rider remounted and came up to the stand.

TUESDAY'S RACES.
The first race Tuesday was a half mile dash for $300, between Cousin Vic, Ballot Box, Jr., and Mary Evans. Cousin Vic won in 1:51; Mary Evans second.

The second race was the 2:50 trot, in which Fred B. Margo and McClellan started. The race was won by Fred B. in three straight heats. Time 2:38, 2:37½, 2:41. Margo was second in the first two heats, and won second money.

The base ball match between the Resolute of Virginia and the Social of Carson, was played while the races were in progress. The Resolute won by a score of 14 to 8.

WEDNESDAY'S RACES.

The Ladies' Tournament was held at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. Six ladies competed. All received a great deal of commendation. The judges found it hard to decide who was entitled to the first prize. The judges were Hon. C. C. Stevenson, A. A. Longley, Hon. J. P. Foulks, Simon Ogg, and H. Carpenter from Eureka. Mrs. Ferguson was awarded the first prize, Mrs. Mooney second, Miss McKislock third, Miss Smith fourth, Mrs. Hawk fifth, Miss Dixon sixth.

Charles M. Fassett gave an exhibition of bicycle riding. There was no one to go against him, but he made a very interesting display.

Cousin Vic and Betsy Maguire started in the half mile dash. Betsy won in 51½ seconds.

The second race, between Jennie B. and Euchre, mile and a half dash, was won by Jennie B. in 2:43½.

THURSDAY'S RACES.

The first race was between Mountain Girl, Maybird and Salem. Mountain Girl won the first heat in 2:52½ and the second in 2:37½.

The races, although interesting, did not create much enthusiasm, and few pools were sold. After the first trot came the three and five, with Belle Spencer, Margo and McClellan, with Spencer favorite. The first heat was won by Margo, Spencer winning the three following and the race. Time 2:51½, 2:49, 2:44½, 2:44½.

The last trot was the two mile and repeat, in which Wm. Tell, Quincy Chief and Woodburn started. Quincy Chief led for half a mile on his own way afterwards, winning both heats. Woodburn came in second, as a sort of running mate for Wm. Tell. Quincy got second money. Time 5:27, 5:17.

FRIDAY'S RACES.

The attendance at the track yesterday was good and the racing the best ever seen here.

The first race was a three-quarter mile dash between Betsy Maguire, Lexington and Euchre. It was finely contested, and won by Euchre, Lexington second. Time 1:17½.

The second race was a mile dash, between Jim Brown and Fred Collier. It was a tight race, won by Fred Collier. Time 1:46½.

The third race was a dash of two and a quarter miles for the Nevada Cup and $200. Baldwin's Clara D and Winters' Connor started. It was a very close race, Clara D winning by neck. Time 4:01½. The first two miles were run in 3:34½. This performance is the best ever made on the coast, and ranks with the most notable achievements on the turf, eclipsing Neapolitan's 4:02 in San Francisco and Mollie McCarty's 4:02 at Chicago.

The next contest was trotting, mile heats, three in five. Trump, Fred B. and Belle Spencer started. Fred B. won the first heat, Trump second, Spencer third. The second heat was won by Trump, Fred B. second. The third heat was won by Fred B. Trump second. Fred B. won the fourth heat, Spencer second. Time 2:40½, 2:34½, 2:37, 2:34½.

SATURDAY'S RACES.

The attendance at the Fair grounds on Saturday showed a slight falling off. At 10 o'clock the stock parade took place, and the award of premiums in that class was made.

The first race was a quarter mile and repeat between Cousin Vic and Ballot Box, Jr., easily won by Vic in 2:34 and 2:5.

The next contest was a trot, mile heats, three in five, in which the starters were Woodburn, Quincy Chief and McClellan. Woodburn won the first, second and fourth heats and the race; McClellan the third heat and second money. Time 2:44, 2:42½, 2:48, 2:46½.

The last trot was for the 2:40 class, mile heats, three in five. Belle Spencer, Fred B. and Trump started. Spencer won the first heat, Trump second. The three following heats were easily won by Fred B., Trump coming in second in each. It was almost 6 o'clock and growing dark when the last heat was finished. Time 2:33½, 2:33½, 2:31, 2:34.

In the course of the afternoon C. M. Fassett of Reno gave an interesting exhibition of bicycle riding, performing a number of difficult feats on the wauwau wheel, and riding a mile around the course in 5:01½. Professor Ring accompanied him on horseback, riding at an easy lope. Mr. Fassett, wore dark blue tights, and as he sped over the track he seemed to be without visible means of support, save the swiftly revolving wheel which rolled beneath him.

AT THE PAVILION.

The man who visits the pavilion every evening because he holds a season ticket and doesn't want to lose one, must have noticed last week a number of additions to the exhibits in the Agricultural department. His eyes should have been attracted by a sample of hemp brought in Wednesday from H. Wright's ranch. The stalk was fully ten feet high. Mr. Wright is a far-seeing agriculturist, and anticipating an active demand for hemp by the "604," he sowed some hemp seed last spring, with the object of supplying the home market. Hemp grows here very well, and adds another to the long list of agricultural products which may be future sources of wealth in this State. Some fine samples of wheat came in yesterday from John Hogan's and D. B. Dunning's ranches in Spanish Springs valley. Dunning shows a bunch of 54 stalks raised from one seed. More butter and fruit, potatoes and squashes have come in, and give a better feel to the Agricultural department than it had on the opening days. A cage of beautiful mountain quails will be noticed down stairs.

MANUFACTURES.

have but slight representation in the Fair. The State is still too young and too much in a hurry to get rich to find time to make its own tools. J. L. McFarlin exhibits a handsome open buggy and an express wagon, models of thorough workmanship. The buggy is light and elegant, as is also one day by N. A. B. and Boiclaire. The buggy shown by this firm has springs with only one leaf, an entirely new style. These vehicles of local make are as good as any made on the coast. Pike and Young and J. F. Hill of Sacramento have some heavy, substantial wagons and top buggies on exhibition. A heavy plow, manufactured by D. A. Panzer, of Summit, Plumas county, is said to have been made entirely by hand. W. J. Luke shows some excellent iron harrows of his make, designed to scratch the earth's back in such a satisfactory way that it will scratch the farmer's back in return.

PLANTS AND FLOWERS.

are the first things that catch the visitor's eye up stairs. Chapin's Arlington nurseries are represented by a beautiful display of cut flowers and flowering plants in pots. Mrs. Wilson of Virginia also makes a very fine exhibit of choice plants and flowers. A beautiful flower wreath hanging from the ceiling marks the locality of Mrs. Wilson's exhibit. These floral features are the most pleasing in the building, the feminine perhaps excepted.

MINING.

although the greatest industry of the State, has little representation at the Fair. There is only one small case of ores exhibited, and those are all from potential mines in the Peavine district. A very interesting exhibit could be made in this department, if the Comstock and other mining men could be induced to send ores, mineral specimens, silver bricks, etc. The ores shown from the Unit mines in Peavine look promising. The salt from the Champion Salt Works, Round Hole Station, Nev., is highly saline.

THE ARTS.

are perhaps as creditably represented by specimens of fine job work done in the GAZETTE office as by any other exhibit. The Journal office also contributes some samples of its best work. J. B. Gunther displays superior workmanship in the way of saddlery and harness. The specimens of book binding from the Nevada Bindery, Virginia City, of which Ferdinand and Anthony is proprietor, would do credit to any establishment. John Sunderland shows some first-class boots and shoes made at his establishment, in addition to a fine variety of imported stock in that line and in gloves and hats.

Visitors were crowded in on Friday evening. The exhibits on the lower floor have increased in number since Wednesday. There were several dozen of loaves of bread, jealously guarded from the public eye by closely folded towels; biscuits, brown bread, gingerbread, dish of baked beans, some loaves of cake and a few additional jars of preserves. The agricultural department was Friday enriched by three cabbages, one head of cauliflower and several tobacco plants. A few ornamental pumpkins, indispensable to all agricultural exhibitions, had been rolled in. A corn stalk is exhibited with ears, a cross between Crosby's Early and Dwarf Sugar. A. H. Acher's contributes a specimen of Egyptian corn. This is a curious variety and very easy to eat in the natural way. A. H. Barnes shows a mammoth hop corn tree. One lot of turnip blood beets has arrived. J. S. Shoemaker shows some fine cherry currants. Some one exhibits some splendid apples, but neglects to name them. (It is of the utmost importance that fruit should be named. An exhibit of fruit has no significance unless the name of the variety is affixed. Some societies very properly refuse to award premiums to unnamed fruit.) James Pearson of Wadsworth shows some fruit from a monthly apple tree, five different months represented. J. L. McFarlin shows a splendid farm wagon capacious enough to haul off all the agricultural exhibit. A combined harrow, scraper, leveler and pulverizer is exhibited by J. W. McKinney, the maker. G. W. Burrier is the patentee. He says it does great execution on the ground. The one shown is the second ever made.

LOCAL BUSINESS HOUSES.

are pretty well represented. Sol Levy and C. A. Loomis both make a fine display of dry goods at the head of the hall. Their exhibits are arranged with great taste and skill, and they deserve great credit for the pains they have taken to add to the attractions of the pavilion. Isaac Barnett displays some beautiful dry goods and boots and shoes. John Sunderland makes a fine exhibit of boots and shoes, and hats and gloves. Osburn & Shoemaker display a large assortment of toilet articles, surgical appliances and beautiful vases. Slaven's Yosemite Cologne is represented by a special exhibit of that fragrant fluid. S. M. Jamison & Son have a show case filled with a great variety of pocket and table cutlery. A Laineau's Steam Coffee and Spice Mills, Virginia City, are well advertised by a heap of packages and cans. In the way of jewelry, silver ware, clocks, watches, etc., the respective exhibits of Messrs. Frudrick and Goeggel are highly creditable. Each has a strong attraction for visitors in the shape of a fine music box.

THE FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT.

of the Fair can this year boast of much deserving praise. There is a collection of well-executed water colors "by an amateur," consisting of flower paintings and landscapes, that exhibits good taste and skill. Other water colors and sketches in the same case are artistic. The hideous chromos hanging on the north wall, near the stairway, are not a part of the exhibition and should be burned. Near them are good portraits of P. B. Comstock and family, enlarged photographs retouched in water colors. The coloring was done by Miss Springer of San Francisco. There are a number of well worked mottoes in silk and in worsted, on card board. A neatly made picture frame of leather is an interesting novelty adjoining. Miss Minnie Moody of Truckee exhibits several large pictures and a number of panels in oil. They show a fair degree of skill, and careful study, and the subjects are pleasing. The colors are well selected and the pictures add much to the exhibition. The usual Berlin wool monstrosities in the shape of wreaths and flowers may be seen above. A fraction of the work and pains expended on such things would produce objects really beautiful. A wax cross with a spray of leaves is neatly molded, and shows delicate and patient work. Mrs. B. Taylor exhibits some finely colored photographs, among them a cabinet picture of the late Miss Nina Varian, the brilliant and beautiful young actress. T. F. Lycock's reputation as an artist is well maintained by a number of studies in crayon. A portrait of a lady painted in China, is creditable to the Chinese artist. It will be seen near the stairway. Some beautiful painting on silk and satin, in water colors, will be seen in the show cases. Two satin fans, thus decorated, are particularly noticeable. There are also shown a number of pin cushions, etc., which display much skill with the brush. There are many other exhibits in the department of fine arts that merit approval, but space does not admit of anything like a complete enumeration. In the department of the reporter found himself completely at sea. Not knowing so much as the names of half the articles exhibited, it was impossible to note any comments upon them. In general, it may be said that the fancy work shown this year has never been surpassed in interest and beauty at any Fair in the State. Even the "Boston excursionists" would have been pleased to see the evidence of time and skill expended in decoration by the ladies of a rough, new, uncultured country like Nevada. Among the most curious articles displayed in this class was a patchwork quilt made by Mrs. R. V. Reed this year. She is 83 years old. Another is a quilt with 5,643 squares, sewed by 183,600 stitches, made by Mrs. L. S. Reed of Virginia. Among the

LADIES' FANCY WORK.

MISCELLANEOUS EXHIBITS.

will be found many things of interest. There is some good bracket work on exhibition, and a miniature working model of a mining engine. Some beautiful handmade straw work baskets are shown. Although the rules forbid the removal of any article exhibited, one of the best things shown in the class of "Nevada productions" was carried off the other night. It was a blooming baby, exhibited by its father, and had attached to its neck a placard bearing the name of its class. The display of young females in this class every evening is highly creditable to the State.

THE AWARDS FOR BREAD.

First prize, Mrs. C. H. O'Hornette; second, Mrs. Huyek; third, Mrs. Penny. There were 61 entries, including over 70 loaves. Deducting three from 31 leaves 48, the number of women who were dissatisfied and angry Saturday evening, and ready to quarrel the Fair a fit failure. The bread is all supposed to be made of Lake Mills flour, and the prize is a barrel, a half barrel and a quarter barrel of flour from that establishment.

Saturday evening there was a large gathering of people, availing themselves of the last opportunity to see the display. Considerable interest was manifested in the bread on exhibition. The premiums were awarded as announced in Saturday's GAZETTE. M. J. Luke sent in, on the last day, for exhibition, an assortment of horse shoes of every variety of size and pattern. Many of them were beautifully polished, but the finest work on them to the practical smith was the smoothness of the forging on those shoes which were entirely unpolished. Nothing new was noted in the exhibits on the upper floor. The following is the list of premiums awarded in the First Department:

Found Dead in a Tunnel.

Wednesday afternoon, while J. A. Scott was looking for a road by which to haul ore to the Auburn mill, he discovered a dead man in an old mining tunnel north of the mill. The body was near the mouth of the tunnel, and lying near it was a bull-dog pistol with two of its chambers empty. Mr. Scott did not stay to cultivate the acquaintance of the corpse, but came to town and notified the authorities. Mr. Neale went out and brought in the body, which now lies in the dead house, awaiting the coroner's inquest and identification. The deceased had on a plug hat and a blue coat, and carried a watch. He was about 5 feet 10 inches in height, round boned, light hair, with light moustache and irregular; mouth drawn to one side. He has been dead several days, and the face is discolored. A note book was found with him, from which leaves had been torn and names rubbed out, for the apparent object of preventing identification. The words "Adin, California," have been made out. Death was caused by a shot discharged into the right temple, the pistol being held so close that the face and hand were blackened by the powder.

A Roused Mother-in-Law.

A pleasant little family party took place last week at the house of Mr. Aldrich in Coal valley, Lyon county. A dispute arose between Aldrich and his son-in-law, Caine, which the young man sought to terminate by stabbing the old one with a butcher knife. The mother-in-law then pitched in, helping her husband, and she also received a slight stab. The old lady was determined, however, and loading up the family shot gun with buck shot she would have son made her daughter a widow had not Caine fled to the hills. The mother-in-law was still "laying" for him with the shot gun, at last accounts.

The Unknown Dead.

The man who was found dead in a tunnel a few days ago, was buried Friday. Sanders & Neale state that the only mark on the body was that the terminal bone of the little finger of the right hand had been taken out, leaving a scar. Nothing has come to light to establish the man's identity. He did not have on a "plug" hat when found, as incorrectly stated, but a broad-brimmed, soft black felt.

Fred B. Sold.

The trotter Fred B. raised in Honey Lake valley, was Thursday sold by L. N. Breed to D. Cires, of Carson, for $1,500. Fred B. is a promising young brown gelding. He won the 2:50 race last Tuesday in three straight heats, beating Margo and McClellan—time 2:38, 2:37½, 2:41.

—The Dramatic Club have a new play in rehearsal.

—Both the Reno banks are now selling drafts on San Francisco at par.

—No clue to the identity of the man found dead in the tunnel has yet been discovered.

—Cattle from the Humboldt are going west on freight trains nearly every day.

—The First National Bank of Reno is selling drafts on San Francisco and Sacramento at par.

—There is a dangerous hole in the bridge crossing the English ditch, opposite the Washoe Brewery.

—The firm of Cunningham & Gibson has been dissolved. Mr. Cunningham will continue the business.

—The Crystal Peak brewery has been closed for two weeks, under three attachments by California parties.

—J. L. McFarlin, one of the Trustees of the Agricultural Society, thinks the Society will come out square on the Fair.

—The trotter Wm. Tell has gone to the Greenville Fair. Belle Spencer is still here, but will go north with her owner in a day or two.

—The Fair last week was the most orderly and quiet ever held here. No arrests were made and not a single case of theft or robbery was reported. Last year's Fair left a dead man on our hands.

—The lawyers have been wrangling all the week in the District Court over the will of the late Nancy Wheat, and are not through yet.

—Mrs. A. J. Smith broke her arm Friday morning at the race track in getting out of a buggy. Her clothes caught on the buggy step, and she fell.

—The men are all dropping into the Wine House very frequently this week, just to try these splendid new Havana's that the boys are talking about, you know.

—Frank Graham, who sawed off his shackles in jail the other day, has given up the saw. The officers were unable to find it, and put him on bread and water until he surrendered it.

—Half a hundred people are gathering wild plums near Sierra City, California. The fruit makes a delicious preserve. There is a chance for some enterprising person to bring a load of it to this market.

—The cry of fire was raised on Saturday evening, but no general alarm was sounded. There was a little blaze in the alley behind the Coats House, where some rubbish had been ignited—probably by a cigar stump.

—Tennyson says that "in the fall the young man's fancy coldly turns to thoughts of gloves." The White House proprietors have a splendid stock of gloves, in all materials, shades and qualities.

—P. J. Kelly says that the grasshopper eggs which were laid in high, dry ground on or about his ranch, near the English mill, are all dead. They have entirely dried up, leaving nothing but hollow shells, which can be rolled into powder between the fingers. In ground where there is moisture the eggs are all right.

—The excitement on Commercial Row yesterday afternoon was not caused by the crowding of a recent husband by a jealous wife, but was entirely due to the opening of an immense stock of new goods at the White House.

—"Bet a dollar and a half to four bits that McClellan comes in head first," shouted Ben James at the track yesterday. "I take you," said Hammersmith. Hammersmith lost because McClellan didn't come in tail first.

—The big Jersey bull at the Fair grounds made a lunge at his keeper this morning, in the stall. The man had a narrow escape. One of the bull's horns passed through the side of the keeper's vest and shirt, but did him no injury.

—T. V. Cecil of Virginia City is in town, and will repair and put in perfect running order sewing machines of any make. Orders left at Goeggel's or Osburn & Shoemaker's will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed.

—"Pull down your vest" is a phrase that crept into current slang owing probably to the wearing of badly made vests with a tendency to wrinkle. "Pull down your vest" would never have originated had all men purchased White House vests, which never fail to fit like the paper on the wall.

—A lot of boys amused themselves with a drunken man on Commercial Row. They had a dozen toads, and stuffed toads into his

The President in Oregon.
ROSEBURG, Or., Sept. 30.—The President and party arrived here at 4:30 p. m. yesterday. They were met by a reception committee from Portland and Salem. A reception was held here last evening and an address of welcome made by Gen. Joseph Lane, which was responded to by the President. Much enthusiasm prevailed. The entire party left this morning, and will proceed direct to Portland.

Eighteen Indian Problem Solved.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—A dispatch from Tucson, Arizona, says: Two miners report that Gen. Carr had had a fight with a small party of Victor's band, eighteen in number, in the Hatchet mountains, killing them all.

Another Stage Robbery.
SMARTSVILLE, Sept. 30.—The Grass Valley stage was stopped three miles from here by a masked man, well armed. A passenger was relieved of about $45; he then robbed a teamster of a small amount.

Shot by His Wife.
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2.—Yesterday Mrs. George Hamilton sent a note, asking an interview with her husband, from whom she had been separated. He called on her and during the conversation she shot him dead. Cause, jealousy. Last winter she shot and severely wounded a young girl named Winklerplek, who had excited her jealousy.

An Officer's Bad Blunder.
AUBURN, Cal., Oct. 2.—Deputy Sheriff Adams, traveling in the Forest Hill stage, last night shot and killed J. P. Bullard, who had been employed to hunt for robbers, but was mistaken by the Deputy for a road agent.

The Wheel-Barrow Man.
MECHANICSBURG, Penn., Oct. 2.—Lyman Potter, the wheel-barrow man, arrived here yesterday, from San Francisco. He goes on to New York.

Fresh Trouble With the Utes.
CHEYENNE, Oct. 4.—Near Cline's ranch, on the Cinnamon river in Colorado, on the 29th inst., a party of freighters got into a fight with Utes, and one of the latter was killed. The agent at Los Pinos reservation had the freighters arrested, but the Utes took them from the guard and carried them away. They are undoubtedly all killed.

Abandoned in a Desert.
The panorama of "Around the World in an hour and a half for four bits" would have been a greater success Thursday had it not been for an unfortunate accident. Half an hour after the panorama began to unfold itself the waning light warned the audience that something had gone wrong. The gloom that had crept over their minds was not dispelled when Prof. Gregory came forward and announced that his gas bags had burst. He had only two and they had both collapsed. This calamity left the audience only half way around the world, groping in an Egyptian darkness as the outlines of the great pyramids faded from view. They came away grumbling and discontented, feeling that the showman should have in some way prevented the gas bags from going in while the audience were mentally in a desert ten thousand miles away.

Brown's School Report.
The following is the report of the Brown's school for the month ending September 24th, 1880: No. enrolled, 23; average daily attendance, 22 7/10; number neither absent nor tardy, 9.
Roll of Honor—Lettie Howard, 96; Maggie Wright, 97.3; Dora Clow, 99.7; Sadie Wright, 97.2; Carrie Daws, 97.2; Dora Brown, 99.7; Mary Clow, 99.5; Millie Wright, 98.2; Lucy Barney, 95.2; Fannie Wright, 93; Grace Clow, 93.5; Willie Barney, 94; James Glehris, 97; Bennie Howard, 93.6; Richard Clow, 98; Char is Davenport, 94; Charlie Brown, 97; George Barney, 90; Willie Wright, 96; Charlie Glehris, 95.
Miss GENIE PAYNE, Teacher.

The Fastest Running Time.
Editor Gazette:—Please state what is the fastest running time ever made.
O. N. A. Ber.
Ten Brock ran a mile against time in Louisville, May 24, 1877, in 1:49 3/4. It was not a race. The fastest mile ever made in a race in this country was made by Boardman, at Shepley, Sept. 21, 1880. The time was 1:40 3/4.

INDIAN SUGAR.
A Sample of the Piute Product—Johnathan Sides Describes the Process of Gathering it—A Curious Substance.

WADSWORTH, Sept. 29.
Editor Gazette:—I have sent you a sample of Piute sugar. I got it from Captain Dave. Ask any Piute Indian as to its being genuine.

SUBSCRIBER.
The above was accompanied by a package containing several pounds of the sugar. The sugar is in large grains or granulations, and resembles the ordinary granulated sugar of commerce. It would be nearly white, if it were not for the quantity of dirt mixed with it. It tastes very much like taffy, and is sticky in the mouth.

Soon after the receipt of the package, a reporter went out to drag the highways for some intelligent Piute. He saw near the office, the decorated figure of Johnathan Sides, the Piute interpreter, who wears brass buttons all over him. To him the reporter said:

"Sides, do you know Piute sugar?"

"Yes, me got some here." Sides held up a little bag in his hand. He opened it and showed some sugar like that sent to the GAZETTE from Wadsworth. He came to the office and looked at the sample, pronouncing it genuine and a prime article. Sides says that the sugar harvest is most abundant this year. The Indians have gathered at the Sink of the Humboldt, as thick as bees in clover, and are storing up great quantities of the sweet stuff for winter use. Sides estimates that the Indians will gather fully ten tons of the substance this season. Ten tons would fill about seventy barrels.

Sides describes the simple process of gathering the sugar employed by the redskins. The sugar is obtained from a species of cane growing wild in Humboldt county. The cane is about a quarter of an inch thick, and grows to a height of three or more feet. In the fall it exudes a sweet sap which bedews the leaves and the surface of the stems. The Indians cut down the canes close to the ground, and dry them in the sun. The sweet sap soon dries and hardens into sugar which adheres to the plant. When the drying process is completed, the plants are spread on the ground over skins or sheets, and beaten. The beating forces the grains of sugar from the plant. The product is sifted, to remove the greater portion of the rubbish mixed with it, and the sugar is left ready for use. Sides says that the sugar will keep a long time. If allowed to get damp, it gets lumpy. The Indians esteem it a great luxury, and gather from far and wide to share in the harvesting of the sweet.

Growing Rapidly.
Almost every day some new industry is cropping up in San Francisco, a fact which is very encouraging at a time when most people are inclined to take a gloomy view of the city's future. An interesting example of this is furnished by the fact that the Zelandia, which sails to day for Honolulu, has on board an immense shipment of Slaven's Yosemite Cologne. This delightful preparation is familiar enough to San Franciscans but we cannot help regarding it as a compliment that it should be sought for in foreign countries, and also in the East, whether a great quantity has recently been sent. The delicate luxuries of this kind are generally enjoyed by the older cities of the world, and we should all look upon the exportation we have mentioned as a flattering sign of our precocious progress.—S. F. News Letter.
Mr Slaven had a fine display of his goods on exhibition at the Pavilion.

The Latest Things in Dry Goods.
Charles A. Loomis appears to be doing a fine business in dry goods this fall. The business he bought from Strassburger & Co. has been steadily increasing since it passed into his hands. Loomis has enterprise and pluck and deserves to succeed. He makes a fine display of goods in the northwest corner of the pavilion. The ladies are all flocking to his establishment to see the wonderful shoddy cloth and those queer passementaries that such a fuss is made over. The ministers may preach against the passementaries but the ladies will wear them just the same. There is really nothing to modest about them (the passementaries), that is, the small sizes.

The Ball Friday Night.
The ball in the theatre Friday night was a great success. The attendance was large, and the affair very pleasant. Langer's band furnished excellent music. That terrible little hand on the clock dial had crept away around to III by the time the girls got home. The winter constellations had climbed high into the sky before the light in the theatre were out. Orion was blazing overhead, with the brilliant Sirius and the Lesser Dog near by, and the Lion rising above the horizon. Jupiter and the Pleiads were well over in the west before the last dancers had retired.

Cattle Dying From Poison in the Hills.

Says the Gold Hill News: People who have cattle running in the mountains this summer are bringing them in with all possible speed. The reason is that they there eat something which kills them. No one seems to know what it is. They first begin to tremble, and while that is on are easily cured by anything that physics them out. If not attended to they soon drop dead, and in fifteen minutes thereafter are puffed up like a balloon. Those of the ranchers around Carson who have been up and brought their stock out of the mountains say it is not infrequent that three to ten head of cattle are found together where herds have lain down for the night. In early days a rancher from Oregon brought down a herd and put them into the mountains. Not half of them ever came out. Then cattle were frequently poisoned in a similar way down in the valleys. No one seems to know what the poison is. It takes effect after rumination only, and not when taken into the first stomach. Nothing has been heard of it for some time till this year.

Another Overated Country.

M. J. Storer, an old resident of Eastern Nevada, returned from the Yankee Fork country a few days ago. Mr. Storer tells the Eureka Sentinel that the Idaho country is overated. The Wood River and Yankee Fork districts have been subject to a rigid prospecting for many years, and by some of the best of Pacific Coast miners. The greatest drawback, however, to the country is the short seasons. Nothing can be done but quartz mining, and until better facilities than are in vogue for getting out machinery are introduced, the prospects of that region will not brighten. Farming and cattle raising could be carried on in the valleys, but to no great and profitable extent. In and about Custer are the best "probabilities."

Novel Kind of Poisoning.

Says the Pioche Record: A few Indians from Panaca and Clover Valley went to the dams, about eight miles from Clover Valley. Last Sunday evening, while they were having a social chat at their camp-fire, it appears that one of them threw some poison on the fire. In a few moments after the poison was thrown in the fire, one of the Indians rose, staggered a little and fell dead. Three other Indians then got up and started to run, but two of them fell dead immediately. The fourth Indian was ill a short time, but will recover. We learn from Chas. Bell, of Panaca, that one of the dead Indians is the one who killed the Indian known as "Nigger Ah," three years ago in Pioche.

The Greenville Fair.

The Annual Fair of the Plumas, Lassen, Sierra and Modoc Co. Agricultural Association will open at Greenville, Plumas county, on Tuesday, October 12th. The grounds have been greatly improved, fine box stalls erected and the track put in capital condition. Good purses are offered (see advertisement on fourth page). The Greenville Bulletin says: The prospect for a grand success of the coming Fair is very promising. All the trotting races are filled, and with the best stock in Northern California. Among the names of the horses entered are Wm. Toll, Ashler, Gen. Jackson, Lady McIntyre, Thoughtful, Plough Boy, Washoe, Will Graham, Fred, Rose Thompson, Jim Hasty, and many others.

The Pupils Take a Week's Holidays.

The public schools closed on Wednesday owing to the absence of the pupils. No holidays were granted this year on account of the Fair, but the boys and girls were too many for the trustees, and gained their point by simply staying away. On Monday and Tuesday the attendance was very slender in all the departments, and on Wednesday there was but a single pupil in one department and in the others the pupils averaged only about five to each. It was only a farce to keep the schools open under such circumstances and they were accordingly closed until Monday.

Chinese Saving Their Bacon.

The custom has been, says the Eureka Sentinel, that when a Chinaman died and was buried, his countrymen would place a large amount of roast pork on the grave of the deceased. Our Shoshone Indians dropped on this racket, and would go in the evening and steal away the pork. Yesterday a Chinaman was buried, and the usual quantity of pork was placed on his grave. In the evening Chinamen were seen bringing the pork back to Chinatown.

$43,000 a Ton.

Says the Grass Valley Union: Some of the big specimens lately taken from the Rocky Bar mine have been sold in San Francisco by the company. About 300 pounds of the specimens brought the handsome sum of $6,500, or at the rate of $43,000 per ton. The most of the rock is loose grain and very suitable for working up into jewelry. The Rocky Bar will soon be taking out more of this rich rock.

Plants, Flowers and Grasses.

F. A. Ebel, of Sacramento arrived Thursday with a fine lot of flowering plants, pampas plumes and colored grass bouquets from his Park nursery in Sacramento. His plants have been on the road three days and have lost some of their freshness in consequence. Mr. Ebel was here two years ago, and has again gone to considerable trouble and expense to contribute an interesting exhibit to our Fair. He does not wish to carry back more than he can help, and will therefore sell off what he has here at low prices.

"One of Them Fellers."

A formidable looking rancher named Gillespie, wearing a slouch hat, and carrying a coil of rope on his arm, went into D. McFarland's saloon last night. Among those present was a young fellow who left Reno somewhat abruptly two years ago while engaged in repairing the public highways under the direction of S. Beemer. The ex-road repairer turned pale at the sight of the rope, and creeping up to a bystander, he asked in a frightened whisper: "Isn't that one of them fellers?" He mistook Gillespie for a member of the "601."

Another Attempt to Escape.

Frank Graham, who escaped with Barney Fitzgerald and was recaptured, sawed off his shackles on Tuesday in his cell. Dute Gray heard a suspicious noise about 6 o'clock that evening, and found out what the prisoner had been doing. The saw could not be found. Both Graham and Fitzgerald have been put on a bread and water diet until they tell where the saw is.

Roll of Honor.

Roll of honor of North Truckee school for the month ending Sept. 29: Fannie Johnston 92, Bessie Gault 90, Josie Gulling 90, Emma Ross 93, Sarah Johnston 78, Charlie Bryant 96, Joseph Lakin 80, Jonnie Gulling 95, Norton Wells 90, James Gault 95, Charlie Ross 77. Those neither absent nor tardy: Fannie Johnston, Charlie Bryant. MINNIE B. GIBBS, Teacher.

A Stranger to Bicycles.

"Did the bicycle race come off?" asked Sol Levy of a stranger from the race track, Thursday afternoon. "No," said the stranger, "I didn't see no bicycle horses. The last what was on the track was grays. 'Pears to me that I heard that their big bicycle were off his feed or something."

The Tournament Prizes.

The prizes awarded to the ladies who took part in the tournament last week were on exhibition in the Pavilion last evening. The first prize was a pair of vases on silver standards; 2d, toilet set on silver stand; 3d, bridle and whip; 4th, perfume stand and jewel case; 5th, jewel tray; 6th, card receiver. They were all beautiful and much admired.

Roll of Honor.

Roll of honor at the "School for Girls" for the month ending September 24: Vienna Dollard 98, Ella Bishop 98, Isabel Osborne 98, Louise Sissa 93, May Benham 91, Carrie Webb 97, Frank Grippen 90, Grace Dowdell 96, Hattie Lewis 96, Nina Burkett 95.

A Brief Episode.

"Go for him, go for him!" was yelled by an excited voice in front of Charley Chase's saloon last evening, and the sidewalk was instantly blocked by a crowd anxious to see who was the poor and who the goose. The poor rushed into Chase's saloon as if about to explode like a bomb, but was fired out by the goose like a cannon.

Where the Horses Live.

Fred B has gone to Greenville, where he will trot next week. Bushy John is going to San Francisco. The running horses were due at San Jose last night and will be in the races there this week. A few horses still remain at the track, but all will be gone in a day or two.

And Yet Editors Dislike to be Thrashed.

From the New York Graphic.
The great gain in thrashing editors is notoriety for all parties concerned. Usually such notoriety, if properly handled, benefits the editor. It gives his paper an enormous advertisement gratis, extending through all the States and Territories and sometimes to other kingdoms and countries. It sometimes causes the name of the editor to be published in French, German, Spanish, Italian and Russian journals and read in all the capitals of Europe. This is another result of thrashing an editor. Then it seldom redresses the evil for which the thrashing is done. It bruits it abroad anew; it distorts, magnifies and misrepresents it.

Our great want is a church, where we can meditate for an hour on the Sabbath, and be exhorted by some earnest preacher. If he were so fixed that he could set up the beer and cigars for the boys the congregation would be large.

A Modern Moses!

Senator Sharon Preaches
Against the Golden Calf.

Which Pair Has Set Up on the Comstock.

In response to a call, a large audience gathered in the theatre Tuesday to listen to the speakers whose names had been announced. Senator Sharon, and Mayor Stevens of Virginia duly appeared. Judge Whitman was reported sick, and Col. R. H. Taylor came in his place. The meeting was called to order by President Shoemaker, of the Garfield and Arthur club, who took the chair and presided. Col. Taylor was the first speaker introduced. He made a speech of force and ability, full of facts and argument; clear, logical and persuasive. He said he was called to speak in the interests of the Republican party, and he made not the slightest reference to the contest for the U. S. Senatorship for Nevada. The Colonel was loudly applauded. He was followed by Mayor Stevens of Virginia, a smart young man, who opened the ball for Sharon, confining himself almost entirely to reflections upon Fair, and to praise of Sharon. Mr. Stevens, however, stated that Sharon was not his first choice, but the withdrawal of the man who was his first choice, made him advocate the election of Sharon. Mr. Stevens spoke briefly and soon made way for the Senator.

PREFACE OF SENATOR SHARON.

Senator Sharon was dressed in a suit of glossy-black sack-cloth, wore a druggist's moustache, a light heart covering of hair, and a campaign smile. In speaking he walked up and down the platform, frequently emphasizing his remarks by rapping on the table, sometimes gesticulating wildly and occasionally allowing his hands to stray into his trousers pockets. He spoke with considerable vehemence and force at times, in a disconnected and jerky style, with a rapid and indistinct delivery, mixing many metaphors in his mental mortar.

He said: Mr. Chairman and Citizens of Washoe County:—I am happy to meet you here to-night. My coming was more accidental than intended. I have been regarded as a mythical personage, as a Sherman-like editor once told me, and I will leave my appearance among you to account for my actual existence. I am not here in any own interest, but in behalf of the great Republican party, with which I have always been identified. I took the first U. S. bonds issued when the war broke out. My standard has ever been the Union. My mission has been to make happy homes in the land. I come to ask you to stand by yourselves and this glorious country. We are taxing the rich that these children may be free. Who would be free themselves must strike the blow. It has been said that I was absent from the Senate when my duty required me to be there. I can say that no important question was passed upon in the Senate but that I was present. I am not packing money to foreign countries, and am not seeking the luxury of Nob Hill, but am building railroads in this State for the convenience and comfort and prosperity of its citizens. Now, I ask you, has Fair the intellectual qualifications for the office of Senator? What is the meaning of all this talk about his sack? Does he intend to buy his way into such a position, and are you to be the bearers of this dishonor, and fall down and worship the golden calf? Gentlemen, the ballot box guards your little homes. He who would break it is only fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils.

The Senator proceeded to give an outline sketch of the conduct of the two great parties since 1860, and spoke with great warmth and enthusiasm of the glorious record of the Republican party, contrasting it with the evil history of the Democracy during the same period.

He continued: Who stood in arms where danger was in its darkest hour? The Republicans. Where did Rebellion look for aid? In the party that aided it. Now that party turns and asks you to trust them. Are you going to submit to these kind of things? The blood of the Nation's slain is hardly yet licked up by the dust on the battle fields, and yet these men who caused that blood to be shed come and ask you to stand by them. Stand by them, if you will, and your mother will forget you. The great deeds of the Republican party have embled its name on every land. The Democratic party asked England for aid during the war. It was when they said they were going to build a Republic with a corner stone of slavery! They prostituted religion, and said that this hell-bound institution, as we call it, had its origin in heaven. And yet, three-quarters of the white race held within its veins white blood, prostituted and mixed by that party. It was then the name of American citizen, when it was stamped upon his brow, gave him the privilege of free speech. (The Senator here probably had the African in his mind.—Rep.)

After a hasty glance at the political and industrial condition of Europe, the Senator discussed State rights as follows: Coming right down to a foggy idea, State rights means simply the right of a minority to nullify the acts of a majority—of one State to draw out from and deify the Union. Did not South Carolina say it had a right to draw out? Have you ever heard these people who talk so much about State rights say anything about State duties? You remember how the term 'Confederate dam' originated. If you get back the Democratic party the good currency of the present day may depreciate until it is not worth a 'Confederate dam'.

The speaker then passed to the consideration of the 'fraud issue,' which the Democrats had tried to raise out of the proceedings of the Electoral Commission. He said the Democratic party were willing to divide the country, and compared the case to the story of the two women who came before a colonel disputing the maternity of an infant. 'Solomon,' he said, 'took out a knife and offered to divide the baby between them.' The speaker compared the Democratic party to the false mother who was willing to take half of the baby, and the Republicans to the true mother who could not bear to see it divided. 'The most distinguished members of the Senate were present when that question of the Electoral Commission came up. I was present. The leading Democrats approved of the measure. Now the party talks about the fraudulent President! If the Democrats had had any means to escape from the result of that decision, they would have done it.'

The Senator went on to say: 'I want to call your attention to this thing of residence. Mere residence cannot be the pivot, the center point in a question of candidates. You have scores of men permanently residing in the State prison. That does not make them eligible for office. It is not residence, but principle that overshadows the broad land.'

The Senator eulogized the work of the Republican party in paying off 800 millions of the National debt, adding that it had never struck a blow at human happiness, property or liberty. On the subject of corporations, he said that labor is as necessary to capital as capital is to labor. Labor has more power than capital, because labor represents far more individuals. He hoped that the people would not abuse this power. Justice is the only real thing worth striving for. The Senator spoke in bitter terms of Col. Fair and his sack, saying:

I might allude at length to this Fair and his sack, but I believe that you will not be influenced by it, although I fear that some of you may be seduced. Though I might leave this State solitary and alone, I would go out of it prouder than ever if you should bow down to Mammon. Your votes are more dear to you than all the filthy lucre in the world. Remember that ye shall not worship two masters. Ye cannot serve God and Mammon. We will never be unhappy unless we bow down to these false idols. Be not deceived by these false slaves. I know your manly brows and your generous hearts. I have made men independent. I didn't despoil the land. I hear of but one unhappy place, where the golden calf is worshipped. Virginia City is in sackcloth. Despair and poverty sets upon you hill, while three men live in palaces and spend their money elsewhere. I never contested the bullion tax that they so much fought. I knew it went to pay the common schools. They might not have found that big bonanza if I hadn't backed them up in their hour of need, and built a railroad. Is it cold lucre that you'll offer at the throne of Mercy? Be not deceived by these men, and do not listen to their unholy proposals. Repel with scorn the men who shall dare attempt to bribe you.

The Senator's speech was listened to with close attention and without interruption. No questions were asked. The applause was frequent, and at the close, especially hearty and prolonged. He spoke for forty-five minutes, making one of the longest speeches he ever delivered.

The Deserted Race Track.

A banquet hall deserted, with the lights out, the bottles empty and the grub all gone, may be a dreary and cheerless place, but the race track after a Fair is just about as gruesome. The grand stand is empty and desolate, the judges' stand is deserted and has a terribly dry look. The bar is closed and the cigar stand shut up. No voice is heard selling pools, or yelling: 'Bring up your horses,' etc. 'Hard Scrabble takes the first heat,' etc. The track seems to run a devilish long way around to make a mile. No sounds come from the stables. Everywhere is emptiness, desertion and stillness. The very wire across the track, which lately vibrated to the hoof-beats of Clara D and Connor, seems to partake of the general depression, and to droop in a dispirited and lifeless fashion.

A Murderer Breaks Jail.

WINNEMUCCA, Oct. 4.
Robert St. Clair, who was to have been sentenced to-morrow for the murder of Patrick Tully in July last, escaped from the jail this evening at 6 o'clock, by forcing the cell door off its hinges.

And the Leaves Were for the Healing of the Nation.

This is fully exemplified in the demonstration that so common a pasture weed as smart-weed or water-pepper, possesses medicinal properties which, when combined with essence of Jamaica Ginger and other efficacious vegetable extracts, as in Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-weed. It constitutes a most potent remedy for bowel affections, as diarrhea, dysentery, flux, etc. It is also an efficacious medicine for colds and to break up fevers and inflammatory attacks, and for the alleviation of pain. Every family should keep a supply of it. 50 cents by druggists.

The Kameralda Republican Ticket.

The following is the ticket nominated by the Republican County Convention of Esmeralda county: Assembly, J. M. Dornier and A. T. Brann; Sheriff, Clem Ogg; County Clerk, H. D. Howard; Auditor and Recorder, Dr. H. D. Davison; Assessor, G. H. Hatch; District Attorney, D. J. Lewis; Treasurer, A. W. Crocker; Superintendent of Schools, L. R. Ames; County Surveyor, J. W. Houston; Public Administrator, A. H. Mawley; County Commissioner (long term), A. G. McAfee; County Commissioner (short term), G. A. Hamilton.

Wild Over an Actress.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The sale of the Bernhardts tickets netted $31,000 yesterday in forty five minutes. The line of patient watchers in the lobby of Booth's Theater was still unbroken when the light of morning appeared, the line having remained all night. Three hundred and fifty seats for the season, representing $21,000 in the treasury, were sold. The Tribune says that this is probably the largest amount of money ever received in a theatrical box office in one day.

A Great Sale.

Mr. Meyerstein of the Great Eastern I X L is closing out his dry goods rapidly. Large sales were made yesterday. He does not want his friends to imagine that he is at all dissatisfied with his experience as a dry goods merchant in Reno. He has had good success, but lack of room compels him to curtail his business to one line, and he will keep, at the old stand next to the post office, a complete stock of gentlemen's clothing, etc.

An Acre of Sheep.

A band of 1,750 sheep belonging to Robt. A. Frazer, were driven through town this week on their way from the mountains to his ranch, where they will be relieved of the wool they have accumulated during the summer. Another band, 2,000 in number, are following in their foot-steps. Mr. Frazer contradicts the report that the White House had bought the wool of these 3,750 sheep, to have it made up into winter suits.

We Can't Talk.

Without showing the condition of our teeth. Every laugh excites them. In order not to show a bad example, let us use that standard dentrice, SCZ-DONT, which is sure to keep them white and spotless. No tartar can encrust them, no caries affect the enamel, no species of decay infect the dental bone. If SCZ-DONT is regularly used. It is a botanical preparation, and its beneficial effects on the teeth and gums are marvelous, as it removes all discolorations, and renders the gums hard and rosy.

A Dull Camp This Winter.

Says the Virginia Chronicle: Nelse Allan, formerly Chief of Police of this city, returned from Bodie a few days ago with a slight touch of pneumonia. He says Bodie will be a very dull camp this winter, and everybody who can get away is deserting the place. Until snow flies druggists will be seen coming in from Bodie.

A Trip to Egypt.

The Rev. Mr. Morgan will lecture on 'Ancient and Modern Egypt,' in the Baptist Church next Monday evening. The lecture will be illustrated with views furnished by the stereopticon. The instrument is good and the views carefully selected. The lecture cannot fail to be both pleasant and profitable to all who attend.

The New Outlook.

The attractive building shown above is the new Warner Observatory at Rochester, N. Y., which will be, when completed, by far the finest private astronomical observatory in the world. Its inauguration is certain to give a new impulse to the study of astronomy in this country, although America is already greatly distinguished by splendid discoveries which her astronomers have made. Among the prominent revelations which the United States has given to the astronomical world may be mentioned the following: The discovery of the eighth satellite of Saturn in 1848, by Prof. Bond; the transparent ring of Saturn in 1850 by Bond; the separation of Biella's comet into two parts, was first discovered in this country in 1845; the discovery of the two moons which accompany Mars was made by Prof. Hall, of Washington, and is one of the crowning astronomical events of the century. The United States claims the discovery of fifteen new comets, some fifty asteroids, over a thousand double and triple stars (many of them being the most remarkable in the whole catalogue of those objects) and last, but not least, three intra-mercurial planets, by Watson and Swift during the total eclipse of 1878. It is but a few years since there was not a respectable telescope in the United States. Now it boasts of having the largest refractor in the world, and in the entire country there are but two larger than the one which is being prepared for the dome of the new observatory at Rochester. This observatory has been endowed by H. H. Warner, the well known proprietor of the Safe-Kelley and Liver Cure and other remedies, and both in its design and arrangement marks a new departure in astronomical construction. The new telescope alone will cost about $15,000, and is to be in charge of Prof. Lewis Swift who, by his discoveries of comets and two intra-mercurial planets, has become known to all lovers of science in America. The tube of the new instrument is twenty-two feet in length, and the lens sixteen inches in diameter. The locality of Rochester is not the most favorable for discoveries, as it is subject to storms which obscure the sky and thus prevent observations, but very much may be expected from the Warner Observatory in the way of scientific revelation during the next few years.

A Traveler Asks For Information.

Just after the arrival of the overland last Tuesday, a man stepped up to a stranger dressed in black and with a smooth-shaven face, and asked: "Are you a resident of these parts?" "Sir," said the gentleman in black, angrily, "Do you mean to insult me?"

"Insult you! No," was the reply, "I merely wished to inquire when the next train leaves for Virginia. I just arrived from the east, and don't know the ways of the country."

This explanation apparently mollified the gentleman, and he said: "There's a train in the morning, I believe. Fact is, I've been living in San Francisco until recently, and haven't quite got the run of things up here yet. Better ask the conductor. Look out for your grip-sack, or the boys will get away with it."

"Isn't it safe to carry a grip-sack about in this country?" asked the man.

"Oh, yes, perfectly safe," was the answer. "I always carry mine with me. I should feel lost without it up here. There is nothing like a sack," he continued enthusiastically, rubbing his hands with delight, "nothing like it. But hold it tight. Hold it tight."

The inquirer stared at him in some alarm and edged away. The gentleman in black somewhat resembled Senator Sharon.

Rules of the Reservoir.

Wild ducks seem to relish the speculation that the reservoir grant, Q. I. a number have been shot there already this fall. Gunners are forbidden to send dogs into the reservoir. If a man shoots a duck and it falls into the water he must wait until the wind blows it ashore. If the wind don't blow, he must wait until the wind rises. If the wind don't rise, he must wait until the flies blow the bird to land. Under no circumstances must be sent a dog in. If a dog falls in, the man mustn't go after him. If the man falls in, the dog mustn't go after him. The Water Company are determined to supply no cold man nor cold dog to their customers. They have agreed to furnish water, but not meat, and they will stick to their contract.

Judges of Election.

The County Commissioners have established an election precinct at Bidleman's ranch, Henry Neill to be the Registry Agent. They have appointed Judges of Election, as follows:

Reno—N. D. Mussey, James Holaday, Roger Johnson.
Duck Flat—L. Clark, Dennis Mulquenny, James Potts.
Salt Marsh—E. H. Hamlin, J. F. Bonham, Chas. Young.
Verdi—Wm. Merrill, J. Foxwell, J. P. Foulke.
Pyramid—E. S. McClellan, John B. Whitehead, Thomas Hale.
Pavine—Wm. Lemmon, Wm. Phillips, N. A. Merrill.
Franktown—E. B. Towl, James Taandler, E. Owens.
Washoe—J. J. Jackson, R. G. Webster, C. Huskell.
Glendale—H. Whistler, D. W. Bryant, John Little.
Wadsworth—D. S. Elder, T. N. Carey, Wm. Boyle.
Brown's—John Wright, Dan Huffer, J. C. Haynes.
Clark's—H. Neill, I. B. Holcombe, John Sturgeon.

A Convention of Surveyors.

General Hatch left this week for Salt Lake, to join the Convention of Surveyors Generals which opened there Tuesday. Commissioner Williamson will preside. The object of the Convention is to discuss various questions relating to the land laws. The Nevada School of Bill passed last winter is so far unoperative, because the manner of transfer has not been fixed. There are also 50,000 acres of the old grant which have not yet been turned over to the State. Gen. Hatch will try to change Commissioner Williamson's view concerning the Square Location Bill, a plan which the Commissioner now favors. The Convention will last several days.

Assessing the Railroads.

The Board of Equalization Monday reduced the valuation for assessment of the V. & T. and the C. P. railroads in this county from $12,000 to $9,000 per mile for the main track. On the other property of the railroads no reduction in valuation was made.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY PLATFORM.

The Democracy of Washoe county in convention assembled declare as follows: That we the Democracy of Washoe county, endorse and reaffirm the principles enunciated in the platform of the National Convention at Cincinnati, in June last, and also our State Conventions at Winnemucca, and hereby approve the lines of government there marked out. Resolved, That we recognize in our candidate for Congress, the Hon. W. Cassidy, an able statesman and tried gentleman, one who as Senator in our Senate has always fearlessly maintained our principles and labored for the best interests of our State, and we pledge that if elected, among his first legislative acts shall be to introduce such a measure as will make completely operative and effective the plank of the National Platform which demands the prohibition of Chinese immigration, and that we invite to the support of our candidates every voter of whatever political creed, who sincerely desires that our laboring classes may be forever relieved of the curse of cheap competition, and cite to them the fact that relief can only come from a Democratic Congress, and a Democratic President. Resolved, That in the person of Judge C. H. Belknap we have a eminent jurist, one that is tried and true, and we point with pride to his past record. Resolved, That the Democratic party has always maintained that none but residents of Nevada should represent her in the National Council, and we disapprove the practice inaugurated by Jones and followed by Sharon, of contracting by the free use of money, the elective franchise of a free people, and we call upon all Democrats and honest Republicans to come boldly forward and assist in wiping out this stain upon the fair name of our young and growing State.

A geologist has found a boulder on Mount Washington which shows that the mountain was completely submerged during the glacial period.

A Bodie young lady has removed the freckles and tan from her face and hands by the use of Mono Lake water. It beats anything found in the drug stores and is not half so injurious to the skin.

Nevada county has 45 stamp mills with 508 stamps and a capacity of 750 tons per day. Of these stamps Nevada Township has 153, Grass Valley 130, Eureka 78, Washington 50, Rough and Ready 22, Little York 10.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Huntley have removed from Cayuga to Mono, San Luis Obispo county, California, where the chief productions are fleas and fogs, she says.

The Portland Bulletin speaks of the death of a man called "half-breed Tom," in the Big Lake country, on September 1st. Tom was out hunting for cattle and riding an unbroken horse. He saw a fawn about fifty yards from him, and, no doubt, thinking what fine sport it would be to lasso it, he prepared his lasso, and, while swinging the noose above his head, it by some unaccountable mishap, encircled his neck, and the horse shying at the same time threw Tom to the ground, ran away and choked him to death.

He Had Been Too Late.

Her mother said the little creature lived on love; but one month after marriage, when the grocery bill came in, he saw that he had made the greatest oversight of his life by not ascertaining what that particular love was for.

John Keelan, after murdering his father, at Stratford, Ontario, coolly sauntered into the house, ate a hearty supper, slept soundly all night, and, when the body was discovered in the morning, calmly said: "Oh, yes; I killed the old cuss."

A man asleep at the top of a telegraph pole was a recent spectacle in Boston. He was a drunken repairer, who had grown drowsy at his work. A great crowd gathered, but nothing was done to arouse him, and he finally awoke in safety.

A boy was carrying two pounds of powder and fuse in a cigar box, at Gibraltar, Pa. The end of the fuse protruded, and a practical joker was at hand to light it. The explosion killed the boy.
